

dartmouth/lake sunapee region

The Dartmouth/Lake Sunapee region of New Hampshire seamlessly blends a vibrant intellectual atmosphere with tranquil natural beauty. This area is a sophisticated and charming New England destination where academic life meets scenic natural surroundings.

The region's outdoor recreation is centered around the pristine Lake Sunapee. In the summer, Lake Sunapee State Beach provides a popular spot for swimming and relaxing, while scenic cruises offer a picturesque way to see the lake and surrounding estates. The Fells Historic Estate and Gardens in Newbury offers beautiful trails and history, and the nearby Connecticut River provides ample opportunities for kayaking, swimming, and boating, ensuring a range of activities for nature lovers.

History and unique local culture are also abundant throughout the region. The Cornish-Windsor Covered Bridge, the longest wooden covered bridge in the United States, is a popular landmark, while The Saint-Gaudens National Historical Park in Cornish preserves the home and works of a famous American sculptor, offering a look into the art and history of the Gilded Age. The Enfield Shaker Museum provides insight into New England's communal history, while the Currier and Ives Scenic Byway allow visitors to drive through classic New England landscapes.

The area is anchored by Dartmouth College in Hanover, an Ivy League institution that provides a cultural hub for the Upper Valley. Visitors can explore the historic campus, visit the acclaimed Hood Museum of Art, or catch a performance at the Hopkins Center for the Arts. The region expertly balances intellectual charm, outdoor adventure, and historical depth, making it a well-rounded and appealing destination for visitors of the Dartmouth/Lake Sunapee region of New Hampshire.
